Serious Runaway Accident. Narrow Escape from Death. The Semerville Falcon, Nov. 7, says: "Last Saturday afternoon the wife of Mr. Burrows Carter, Jr., who resides a few miles north of Somerville, jumped into a well twenty-five feet deep, and remained there four hours before assistance could be tained to take her out. The water was about four feet deep, and she was badly chilled and benumbed when she was taken out. Temporary insanity was doubtless the cause of the rash act. Dr. Washington, her attending physician, reports that she is now doing well and will soon recover." Small Pox at Bristol.

The Knoxville Chronicle, Nov. 9, says: "We understand that two new cases of small pox were discovered at Bristol on Wednesday, and vesterday a colored we sday, and yesterday a colored woman took sick and it is supposed that she is also afficied with this dread disease. The town is under strict quarantine and everything possible is done by the authorities to prevent the spreading of the pest. While there is no immediate danger in this city, yet we think it would not be altogether amiss for our city aethorities to take such steps as are best calculated to prevent this much dreaded disease from making its appearance in our community, or in the event of its spreading here, to curtail its ravages."

Burglars, Thieves and Pickpockets. Reliable information has been received at Police headquarters to the effect that a large troupe of thieves, burgiars, pickpockets, ebony legs and every conceivable kind of dishonest men are following Barnum's circus around and as this will exhibit at Nashville Tuesday and Wednesday next, we are requested to warn our citizens in time that they may be on the look out for the visits of such characters as above alluded to. We understand that several have already arrived and are reconnoitering to find out the houses so that they may operate successful-ly. Several pold burglaries, larcenies and obberies have already been committed by the parties at various places, and too much caution cannot be used to prevent them committing like deeds in Nashville.

Concert at the Cathedral. The concert at the Cathedral announced for to-morrow night promises to be one of the grandest musical events of the season, so we judge from the final rehearsal we heard last Friday night. Such a galaxy of singers is hard to be found anywhere. Among those who will take part in the concert are Mes lames Wessel, Beauman, Ash." er, Larcombe, Anderson, and Patterson. We are also promised organ solos and duos by Profs. Beauman and Chenfou. The tickets are only fifty cents, and we look for a large crowd to be present. The doors will be open at 7 and the concert begins at 8 o'clock. Let everybody be on hand. The Barnum Show. The name of "Barnum" is associated with almost every important event in the smusement world, and has been for the past twenty-five years. "Barnum, the Humbur," is an appellation which he originally applied to himself, and thus armored he asked the public to patronize him. They have done so, and now Barnum, the same man that he was twenty years ago, is acknowledged Through trains arrive and depart from Louis-tille and Nashville Depot, North College street.

Homicide in Maury County.

The Columbia Herald of Nov. 8 has the following: "Robert D. Ricketts, ex-Sheriff of Maury county, killed his brother-in-law, John L. Grimes, in Mt. Pleasant, last Saturday eve-E. S. Anderson, Chief of the Memphis ning. Grimes had been living on a farm belonging to Ricketts, for ten or eleven years, and sometime during the last year, married, told him that he wanted the place himself next year. Some time ago, a difficulty occurred in a between Grimes Ricketts & Hagan, and last Saturday Grimes came to Mt. Pleasant with a double barrel shot gun under his arm. He threatened to shoot Bob Ricketts, Jim Hagan and

Frank Ricketts, and the former was notified his friends, put a derringer pistol in his p. m. pocket. He met Grimes, when the latter caught him by the collar, and cursed him. Mr. Ricketts replied in a friendly tone, "Why, what's the matter, John? What are you going to do with that gun?" "I'm going to kill you with it," he exclaimed with an oath, and suiting the word to he pushed Ricketts from him with one hand, and fired the gun with the other. He did not push Ricketts far enough, how-ever, and he missed him, the load taking effect in the side of a house. Ricketts al most simultaneously pulled his pistol out and fired it, the ball entering Grimes' neck and severing the jugular vein, causing his death almost instantly. Mr. Ricketts was ed that the killing was done purely in self-or pretended to be deranged. He leaves a large and almost helpless family." Schenck's Speculation. for the burial, to wit:

John T. Hide was appointed Marshal and R. Harwell chaplain.
The special Grand Master also appointed Henry C. Hensley, James T. Bell, and J. R. Harwell a committee to draft suitable resolutions upon the death of R. H. Barry, to be presented to the next meeting of the Right Worthy Grand Lodge. The meeting then adjourned to meet again punctually at 1 o'clock to-day, at the office of the Widow and Orphan's Life Insurance company, where all members of the Grand Lodge are requested to assemble at that hour.

It was also requested that members of the Grand Lodge wear the regalia of that body while in session.

Police Pickings.

Only two cases on the police docket yeserday morning. Sam Gilber is a gentleman of color who has learned, during the forty years of his meanderings up and down this vale of tears, that in order for man to live, man must eat, and Sam always manages to have provisions of some kind on hand. Whenever he has the wherewithal to renumerate the provision dealer, he pays for what he gets, in the most cheerful manner, but when his finances run low, he is compelled to resort to underhanded means to obtain the necessaries of life. He went to market Priday evening for the purpose of purchasing some fish but changed his mind when he found with regard to the purchasing. However, he laid in a plentiful supply of fish, which he secured while the dealer's attention was the "Barnum Show" is certain to bring out eccupied with other customers; carefully concealing his prize under his coat, he walked off toward home at a remarkably brisk space. A policeman who suspected that all was not right with Sam, followed him up, overtaking him just as he reached the quiet precincts of the domestic hearth, whereupon Sam threw the fish into a vanotty cane. The confidence man had such | cant room. He was immediately taken into custody, and after the marter had been fully investigated in the Police Court yesterday. Sam entered into a contract with the city to provements. We regret to learn that conductors J. Bean and T. R. Hassard have resigned their positions on the Evansville, Henderson and Nashville, and Engefield and Kentuck divisions of the above named company in whose service they have been some time, the former gentlemen being the oldest bell puller on the road. Messrs. J. C. Carnaham and George Higley, gentle-men of railroad experience have been employed to fill the vacancies, and will prove mselves available and well suited for their duties. Capt. D. C. Epperson, a young man whose gentlemanly conduct has won him many substantial friends as his faithful attention to business has merited whatever of confidence his employees have bestowed, succeeds Capt. Bean, and will doubtless be, as in the past, always diligent in promoting the interests of the company. Mess.s. Bean and Hassard have many friends who will regret to learn that they no longer are connected with this promising company, whose directing officials are now engaged in prosecuting im-provements of a material character. The bridge at Red river, Robertson county, which was a bugbear to the timid and nerv ons traveler, has just been completed. Every timber is new, the workmanship well done, and the bridge is no longer a source of fear. The trains rumble over it smoothly and safely as along the common track on land. The grading to the wharf at Henderson will Union & American Block. be completed by the first of next month, and as an improvement highly advantage-ous to the interests both of the road and the public. When this improvement is made it will save the trouble of transferring passengers and freight, inasmuch as the trains will be run on to the company's boat and steamed direct to Evansville, and vice versa in coming this way. The reduction in time between Nashville and St. Louis will be considerable, enough we are sure, to give other recommendations to this road in addition to the courteous management already experienced by the public from its general superintendents and managing officers whose aim, aided by financial, as well as a large railroad experience, is to estab-Marder at Johnsonville.

Great consternation was occasioned

among the citizens of Johnsonville, Humphreys county, Tenn., last Friday night, by the discovery that Mr. John B. Dickey, pro-prietor of the Buckhorn Saloon, and a well known citizen of that place, had been murdered. The homicide took place at 104 o'clock, in the saloon, nobody being present but the murdered man and his assassin. Five pistol shots were fired, four of which took effect upon the body of Mr. Dickey, causing instant death. When our informant left Johnsonville at one o'clock yesterday morning, the Coroner's jury had commenced its investigations, but nothing was known to outsiders as to the pature of the evidence before them. It is supposed that at the time of being shot Mr. Dickey was preparing to close the house for the night, and it is not probable that the murder was committed for the purpose of robbery, as no money or other valuables were found to be missing. A woman living near the saloon heard the shots and also a cry for help. Other parties noticed a man running away from the house, going in the direction of the railroad Mr. Dickey was a very peaceable citizen, and quite favorably regarded by the that he hadn't a copper about him, that is people of Johnsonville and the vicinity. He was about 45 years of age, a native of New Hampshire, and had resided at Johnsonville since the close of the war. As to who was the perpetrator of this atrocious deed, nothing is at this time positively known, although suspicion is to some extent directed towards a man with whom he was not on very friendly terms, and who was the only man with whom he had any difficulty at Johnsonville. It is expected that the finding of the Coroner's jury will show whether there is any reasonable foundation for this suspicion. The remains of Mr. Dickey will be brought here for interment at Mt.

Olivet Cemetery. The funeral will occur at 9 o'clock this morning, carriages proceeding from the undertaking establishment of R. H. Groomes & Co., on Cherry street. Our Old Sisters of Charity. The old citizens of Nashville will reember hose Daughters of St. Vincent de Paul who moved among us twenty years ago, doing ceeds of charity, and whose selflenying ministrations amid the horrors of the cholera seasons struck the chord of admiration in every generous heart. They left here previous to the war, and it may interest many to know what they have been doing since, for nearly every one of them is still alive and active in the duties of their eligious vocation. Leaving here in 1859, they found an asylum at Leavenworth, anguage, the charge being preferred by his Ks , under the auspices of Bishop Miege, of starting, and all the machine shops in neighbor, the Johnson man. When the where they have since struggled and prospered, until now they have four establishments in that immediate vicinity, namely: Mount St. Mary's Convent, outside of the city, which is the Noviciate of the Order, under charge of Mother Frances Xavier; St. Mary's Academy in the city; another in South Leavenworth, and a flourishing school at Fort Leavenworth above. Besides they have branched out and established academies at Lawrence, Eudora and Judge in bidding the accommodating Thorn- Wyandotte, Kansas; and following the Pacific railroad have made a footbold in Denver City, Colorado, and Heiena, Montana, the latter advance guard being under charge of Sister Mary Vincent, a name once familiar in Nashville circles. When that he would never forget his kindness, and these sisters left here the community numif he ever wanted a re-election, he might safely count on the Thornburg vote. bered only sixteen, but they have grown to a membership of one hundred and one. Never weary of well doing, they are now auxious to enlarge their Orphan Asylum in Leavenworth city, which is unequal in accommodations to the demand upon it. The orphaus applying for admission are mostly victims of the war in Missouri just across the river, where it assumed all the ghastly horrors of a bitter civil strife, and whole regions were ruthlessly devastated with fire days of yore. These Sisters are at present that he was uninjured. journing at the residence of Mr. Thomas farrell, and will be thankful for any contributions for the cause of the orphan from the old friends of our old Sisters of Charity, without regard to creed or nationality. The appeal will touch many a grateful heart in his community.

Sad Fate of au Aged Couple. TERRE HAUTE, IND., Nov. 9 .- Last night Avery Plummer and wife, of Ellisburg, Jefferson county, N. Y., were passengers on the westward bound night express train over the Vandslia line, and should have left the train at this point and taken the morning train for Evansville, whither they were bound. But they failed to obey the directions of the conductor, and he found them on the train after it had started Edward Bradley, Rector, at 11 a.m. Fu- west from here. He then arranged for neral of Mr. Richard H. Barry at 2 p. m. | them to stop at Marshall, the first stopping place, and come back on the next train this Elm Street Church-Services at 10:45 a. way. Before reaching Marshall he missed m. by Rev. James D. Barbee, and at 7 p. the aged couple from the cars, and search m. by Rev. Dr. Young.

THE COURTS

PROBATE COURT .- James E. Johnson was appointed and qualified as administrator of the estate of Charles B. Johnson, de-CRIMINAL COURT .- State vs. Jacob, alias Charley Daniels, colored, larceny. Jury returned a verdict of guilty, fixing his term of imprisonment at three years, and he was sentenced by the court. State vs. T. A. McCaffrey, alias Alex Mc-Caffrey, alias Chas. F. McClung, obtaining money under false pretences. Verdict not guilty, and prisoner remanded to jail to await a trial on a similar charge. LAW COURT .- In this court the notice for a new trial in the case of Dunn vs. Nashville and Chattanooga Railroad Company was heard before Judge Andrew Allison. The motion was based upon the verdict being against the charge of the court, and not supported by the evidence. The charge was ubmitted to by both parties, as a clear and able exposition of the principles of law governing the case. Another question was thence over over the Western lakes, brisk brought to the attention of the court: who portheasterly and southeasterly winds. should pay the per diem of the special Cloudy weather and rain will prevail, exthe county of Davidson, or or tending to morrow to the lower Ohio val-As ley and Michigan.
